Enter: The Class of 2004

By Laura Samuels

Washington and Lee once again welcomed new freshmen as the members of the class of 2004 arrived in Lexington early morning on Move-In Day. The Freshmen Orientation committee waiting outside the dorms eagerly offered to help students and their parents carry luggage, trunks, and cinder blocks up the endless flights of stairs to their new rooms. As they unloaded personal belongings, students met their roommates, hallmates, dorm counselors, and small group leaders, who served to lead the freshmen through the coming activities of freshmen orientation.

As evening approached students made last minute trips to Wal-Mart and prepared to depart from their families. Though farewells were emotional and sometimes tearful, the freshmen had no time to feel alone because of the numerous events in store for them and the new faces and people they were constantly encountering.

1. A freshman surveys the mess that his luggage and other belongings have created after finally lugged everything up the stairs and into his room.

2. A family savors their last few minutes together, and gets a taste of some of the magnificent food served by dining services on the BDG quad at the barbecue lunch on Move-in Day.

3. Freshman Bryan Early laughs at the pitifully small space that he now calls home, while wondering where he's going to put everything he brought with him.

1. A freshman unpacks her bags; lucky to have a sink in her room, she questions whether she can fit her bath & body articles in the small cabinet provided.

A major part of freshman orientation are the small groups. These groups discuss the transition to college life, what to expect, give advice on teachers and classes, and lead the students through their first week at W&L, culimnating in a group discussion on the book sent home to each freshman, this years' selection, "Franny & Zooey."

2. The Number 1 thing you can do to annoy your roommate? Play music that they hate. Play something that will grate on their nerves. Play Weezer. These two freshman quickly begin checking out each others' CD collections to see if the selections they put on the roomate survey really matched up with who they got or not.

3. The first hall meeting. Heather MacDonald's hall has their first introductory meeting, with each of the girls telling a little about themselves.

Homecoming 2000

Generals vs. Sewanee

By Blake Jones

Homecoming Weekend 2000 was true to tradition: alumni, parties, music, football, and tailgating. The Mongolian Minks initiation and debauchery kicked off the weekend on Friday afternoon. That night, SAB brought Rusted Root to the Pavilion. They drew a large crowd, and provided much enjoyed entertainment. Saturday began with food, drinks and mingling at the Ruins. Football ensued with the Generals playing a great game. W&L walked away with a 27-24 victory over Sewanee. Chi Psi's nominee, Nicole Hartley, was crowned homecoming queen at half-time. Immediately following the presentation, she and her date took off in a hot air balloon for a brief ride. This year was the first for sorority houses; many provided receptions for alumni following the game. Homecoming weekend wrapped up with bands and fraternity parties on Saturday night. A campus favorite and regular, Virginia Coalition, played at the Pi Kappa Phi house.

1. The hot air balloon rides over the ruins were one of the biggest phits of Homecoming Weekend.

2. A view from above... A picture taken of Tailgating from the hot air balloons shows the massive numbers of people involved Saturday morning.

3. Junior Claiborne Taylor and his dog take a moment to pose at tailgating Saturday morning.

1. A shot from the football game where Generals Football beat Sewanee 27-24.

2. W&L's brand new cheerleading squad shows off its stuff during halftime, amazing the crowds.

3. Tailgating at its finest... W&L's Homecoming should rank with FD among THE social events of the South.

DIVA TAKES THE STAGE

Brooke DeRosa, the starlet of the Class of 2001 struts it with her Britney Spears impression during the General Admission concert in Lee Chapel over Parent's Weekend. The concert was a roaring success, with performances by Southern Comfort, and Jubilee augmenting General Admissions opening numbers.

Parents Weekend

By Becky Mosig

Every year parents weekend is a big event on campus and this year was no different. Students took their parents to see concerts, guest speakers, even classes. And even though the weather wasn't the reatest, everyone seemed to enjoy the traditional tailgate at the ruins, he football game, and the soccer team's championship win. Wal-mart was he typical hot spot as kids stocked up on the necessities while the 'rents ere here to pay for it.

That night, dinner was on the parents, cocktails were on the frat houses, usic was provided by bands like Doug Clark and the Hot Nuts and The rotherhood. After three days of family bonding parents and students hug oodbye and return to their own worlds.

. Emily Ramey talks with her arents on the front porch of her ouse before Tailgating.

2. The Chorus concert in the science addition was a big hit among parents coming to campus for the weekend.

3. A student walks her family around campus in the drizzle that hung over the weekend.

Christmas Weekend

By Sarah Sturtz

'Twas the nights of Christmas Weekend and all through Doremus, everyone was rockin' to the SAB concert, The Disco Biscuits.

The Christmas lights were hung on the frat houses with care in hopes that girls in pretty red dresses would soon be there.

The students were not nestled snug in their beds, they were enjoying cocktail parties with visions of Christmas Break in their heads.

Girls in red dresses and garland and guys in Santa suits, rocked out to many bands, kicking off their boots.

When all through the week there rose such a clatter of tree trimmings, secret Santas, and Christmas cookie batter.

But when Sunday came into sight, students hear "good luck on finals and to all a good study night."

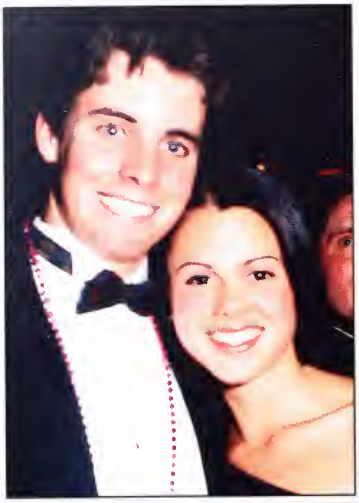
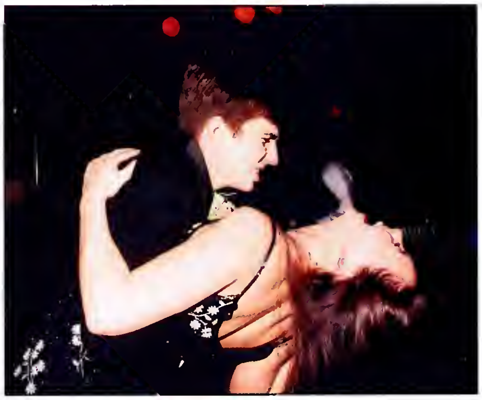
A FIJI Christmas

The Phi Gamma Delta House always knows how to celebrate the holidays, and avoid thinking about exams over Christmas Weekend. In a picture from the past, Christmas Weekend 1999, we see past FIJI attempts at decorating their Christmas Tree... Hopefully a job the house mother has since taken over.

Santa & Blair Mitchell take a moment to reflect on the past year, and whether Blair has been naughty or nice. The verdict? Naughty. VERY naughty.

Laissez Les Bons Temps Roulez





Fancy Dress Ball 2001

By Neal Willetts

Fancy Dress Ball 2001 took W&L by storm. For a while, students were enjoying two offical black tie affairs each year, including the Mock Convention Gala in 1999 and the 250th Anniversary Gala in 1998. But this year, FD went stag and was anxiously awaited by all.

The 2001 theme, Laissez les bons temps roulez, was heralded around campus with the arrival of invitations in everyone's mailboxes and mardi gras beads strewn around campus, much to B&G's annoyance.

Translated as "Let the good times roll," the theme was centered around, but not limited to, Mardi Gras. The big gym was decorated with everything from a cemetary and street flower stands to little cafes and a running fountain.

SAB recruited the Funky Meters to begin the weekend festivities with a concert at the Pavillion. Then it was onto the ball for a grand old time. Was all the wait worth it? Of course!

Gettin' jiggy with it!

The King of any party, Thaxton Mauzy and FD Chairwoman Keenan Weston marvel at how good of a job she did.

Sophomore Amina Elgouacem rests her feet with her date at one of New Orlean's many street cafe's set up along the side of the big gym.

To the Left, Everybody put your hands up in the air! Students party hard, and dance the night away.

This brass band entertained students and faculty in the little gym. Bands such as this give credit to the rising popularity of swing dancing, which has even sparked the formation of a swing dance club over past years. The club offers swing dance lessons with events like FD in mind.

Above, seniors Scott Cameron and Kathie Soroka show off their fantastic dance moves with the Swing Band in the Little Gym. One word of caution folks, don't try moves like this at home.

At Left, the red carpet treatment awaits those taking the mystical journey to New Orleans for Fancy Dress Ball 2001.

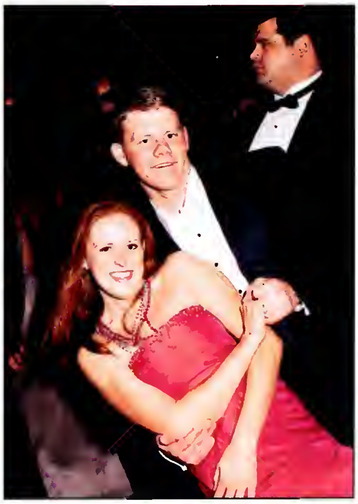
CAFE DU MON



Lenfest Center for the Performing Arts

By Neal Willetts

The 2000-2001 Season at the Lenfest Center was the hit that everyone hoped it would be. Celebrating its 10th year of offering quality theatre to students and townspeople, the theatre department put up memorable productions such as School for Scandal, a run in repertory of Oleanna and Greater Tuna, One Acts 2001, and the sell-out successes of winter terms' The Elephant Man, and spring terms' musical comedy hit Company. This year the theatre department boasted an impressive array of talent both on stage, and off, not only in student directors but also in stage managers and crew. Also, guest costumer Barbara Bell brightened up the stage with her professional constuming fall term. Hats off to a fantastic anniversary season!

Ryan Truax is shown in one of the many roles he played during Greater Tuna, his senior thesis. The show was also a senior thesis for Truax's co-star Blair Mitchell and show director Francis McWilliams. An amusing sidenote--Blair and Ryan were freshman year roommates.

2. Theta's "Tacky Prom" is one of the sorority's favorite parties each year, raiding Goodwill and other thrift stores for Prom dresses they wouldn't even have worn in the 80's!
4. It's always a party at FIJI with these guys around--Mike Crittenden, Andrew Simmons, Tom Monaco (rear view) and Tim Cormier are up to something.

Everybody's Favorite Night: Playboy Mansion!

What could be better than a bunch of scantily clad sorority girls with bunny ears, looking for a pimp to play Hugh Hefner?

. The Pole Houses are always the scene of a good party every weekend. ere, a group of junior girls poses for the camera at Sigma Chi's Pole House

. One of the biggest parties every Spring Term is Sigma Nu's "Ship-recked." Here, Anna Regenstein and friends celebrate spring term in a file hoto from 1998's "Shipwrecked."

Animal House

Work hard, play harder! W&L's unofficial motto serves as a mantra to many students each Wednesday, Friday and Saturday night during fall and winter term, and seven nights a week during spring term.

At a school like this, everyone needs some time to wind down and relax each week. There is never a lack of activities for people to join in, whether it be a social mixer between two Greeks, a University event like FD, a band at the Pavillion, or even the infamous junior-senior party at Zollman's! Some of the most popular events include: "FIJI Islands," Lambda Chi's "Tropical," KA's "Old South," Chi-O and Theta's "Headbangers Ball," SNu's "Shipwrecked," and the infamous Chi Psi Late Nights and "Chi-Psychotic."

For all those who have seen the greatest college movie ever made--ANIMAL HOUSE--you know that W&L students know how to party with the best of them!

By Neal Willetts

3. FIJIs tend to do wierd things at parties. We aren't exactly sure what Andrew Simmons and Matt Gooch are doing, but at least it's funny!

Speakers

PAUL KURTZ, founder of the Committee for the Scientific Investigation of Claims of the Paranormal

KATIE KOESTNER, Survivor of Sexual Assault and outspoken advocate

PETER HART, Democratic Pollster

JAMES CEASER, Professor of Government at the University of Virginia

NORMAN ORNSTEIN, American Enterprise Institute Scholar

DR. PAT ROBERTSON, Founder of the Christian Broadcasting Network, the Christian Coalition, Regent University, and W&L Alumnus 50'

GEN. BARRY MCCAFFREY, Former National Drug Tsar, Military and International Affairs Expert

CHUCK BURRIS, The first black mayor of StoneMountain, Georgia (former headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan).

BEN STEIN, Entertainer, Academic, Former Presidential Speechwriter and Lawyer

ROBERT W. RAY, Independent Counsel and W&L Law Alumnus

MIKE REISS, Producer of THE SIMPSONS, and Creator of THE CRITIC

The "Drug Tsar" brought in the most impressive audience of the year. Gen. Barry McCaffrey packed Lee Chapel for his speech in which he spoke of his tenure fighting the war on drugs in the U.S.

Sergei Khruschev, son of former Soviet Premier Nikita Khruschev, signs a book for a fan after giving an interesting talk fall term. He is presently a professor at Brown University.

Tom Wolfe, W&L Alumnus and author, captivated the audience with his insight and wit.

Contact

Contact's crowning acheivement for the 2000-2001 year was bringing the multi-talented Ben Stein to campus winter term for a talk in Lee Chapel. After the speech, he was spotted cruising around the Co-Op surrounded by a loyal band of sychophants.

Baccalaureate Service

By Neal Willetts

Your last day as a college student... The sun is shining, it's not to hot, or humid, all your friends and family are gathered around you, there is a long processional where you get to smile for alot of flashes, and a blessedly short, but interesting address by a 1977 W&L grad. That was the experience 393 graduating seniors had as they went through Baccalaureate Service on Wednesday June 6th, 2001.

Despite ominous looking weather early in the morning, the sun broke through the clouds about half an hour before the service began, much to everyone's relief. The service took an amazingly short 55 minutes from start to finish, including 25 minutes of processing in. The seniors were addressed by alumnus Hoffman F. Brown, III, '77, who is Paster at Wayland Baptist Church in Baltimore, Maryland. After the service, seniors, family, friends and other University members lunched on Stemmons Plaza.

At right, the Reverend Hoffman F. Brown, III '77 address the gathering of parents, graduating seniors, family and friends.

Below, some seniors are caught along the colonade as they process towards the ceremony.

Soon to be graduates Zeenie Ginwalla and Steven Klotz marvel over how fast the years have sped by, and that it will take an act of Congress to organize everyone into the lines that they are supposed to be in...

Flag bearers representing the University and the nations comprising the Class of 2001 gather outside Washington Hall before the procession begins, anxiously awaiting being able to put down the flags sit.

This is the procession that never ends... Here we see the beginning of the 25 minute processional of the graduates, faculty, and Dean's of the college onto the front lawn.

W&L Deans with President Elrod prior to the Baccalaureate Service on June 6th, 2001

Above right, the line of seniors processing onto the front lawn for the Baccalaureate Service winds its way from the Lee-Jackson House, all the way down the walk, past Newcombe, down the Colonade, through Washington Hall and back to the J-school. Who ever said W&L was a small college?

When is it going to begin?" Above left, the proud parents anxiously await the beginning of the service so they can attempt to get the best photo's possible of their child. Enough flashes went off to keep the Walmart 1 hour photo place busy for several days!

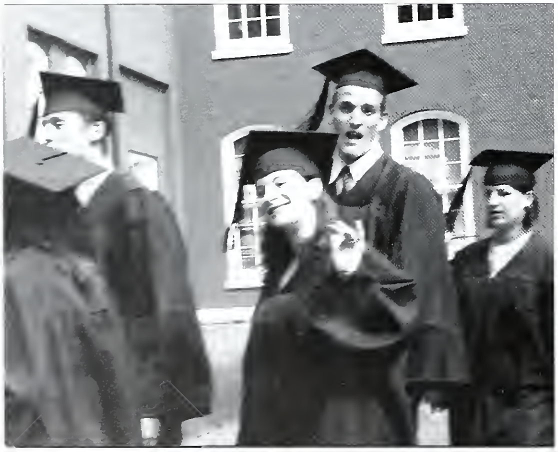
On the left, University Marshall & Chairman of the History Department, Dr. Holt Merchant leads the way with the ceremonial Mace. Behind him is the faculty of the college and lined up along either side are the graduating seniors in the Class of 2001.

Graduation 2001

June, 7th, 2001

On the right, the soon to be graduates anxiously await the faculty processional that begins the Graduation Ceremonies. Highly traditional, and very beautiful, many seniors were moved to tears during graduation exercises.

Below, Emily Barnes, a journalism major, and Scott Cameron behind her, the winner of the prestigious Watson Fellowship wave to the camera. Emily will be working as a photographer for a Florida newspaper and Scott will be travelling the world studying various teaching methods.



Sybil Prince, a music major, always shines whenever she smiles. Obviously graduation was a VERY good reason to be happy!

LEXINGTON, VIRGINIA

Graduation

By Neal Willetts

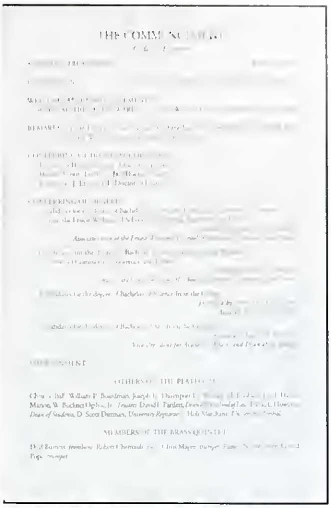
Graduation. A time for Pomp & Circumstance, speeches, and lambskin diplomas. This year's commencement marked the 252nd graduating class of the University, with just as much tradition and tears as years past.

President Elrod opened the ceremonies, and Acting University Chaplain Litzenburg brought those assembled together in a moment of prayer. Afterwards, graduates were addressed by both President Elrod, and 2000-2001 EC President John Comly. Though neither divulged the secret to happiness or success, both men gave well thought out speeches full of sentiment and meaning.

Three honorary degrees were conferred by President Elrod to Elizabeth Cooper, H. Edwin Derrick, and Ted Edlick for their service to the University, the community and the student body.

After the honorary degrees were handed out, President Elrod presented the undergrads with their diplomas as each persons was called forward by the Dean of their respective part of the College.

Once all the degrees were distributed it was off with the black robes, into something a little cooler and more comfortable, and off to the graduation parties. All over town the signs of W&L graduation were rampant: massive numbers of cars, packed tables at Sheridan Livery, Southern Inn, Il Palazzo and Willson-Walker House. Now, as the Class of 2001 goes off into the wide world, those of us left behind in the W&L bubble move one step closer to that fateful day when we too will walk across the platform and receive our diplomas.



Howard Sanborn, a politics major from Florida anxiously awaits receiving his degree. Next year his plans include ssibly going to New York City and law school, or rking.

Kathie Soroka, a 2001 graduate with a B.A. in Politics receives her diploma from President Elrod. She will be spending the following year in Chicago working with the less fortunate.

Francis McWilliams loves the camera. So much so, that he's going to New York next year to try and make it big in professional theatre. After his leading roles over the years, including rederick Treves in this year's Elephant Man we have no doubt he'll go far.

Sarah Walters, Mellisa Williams, Chris Wilson and Patrick Wright wait outside Washington Hall for the procession to begin.

UNIVERSITY

Lexington, Virginia 24450-0303

Office of the President
(540) 463-8700

To the Class of 2001:

What a privilege and pleasure it is to offer my congratulations at the time of your graduation from Washington and Lee University. You have worked hard for what you have earned: a degree from one of the country's most respected institutions of higher education. You have had the advantage of a very favorable student-faculty ratio, small classes and an unusually broad curriculum. My fondest hope is that these academic assets have prepared you well for your future endeavors whether those be in continued education, business, the professions, or the arts.

Washington and Lee has benefited by your being here not only for your intellectual contributions but also for your contributions to our values-based institutional life. You have fostered the community of trust within which we are privileged to live and work as the chief result of our historic Honor System. This should be for you an Honor System for the remainder of your lives and, I hope, a characteristic of your lives for which you are grateful to your alma mater. Remember that all of us benefit daily from the high standards of those for whom our university is named: George Washington and Robert E. Lee.

That you have left Lexington does not mean that you have left Washington and Lee. You are now a part of what is regarded as one of the most closely-knit and helpful alumni networks in the country. I urge you to take full advantage of the greater Washington and Lee family through the contacts and friendships you develop in the places where you live and by staying in touch with the University through the Alumni Office. We fully intend to continue to serve you and hope, for that reason, you will help us maintain a good, open line of communication.

Come back to Lexington often. We will welcome your every opportunity to do so. In the meantime, please know that Mimi and I have enjoyed your student days here and wish you every happiness and success in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

John W. Elrod

The Xi Lambda chapter once again proved that Chi Omega was MDF in the 2000-2001 school year. The fun was unstoppable with Persephone's Gala, Anything for Money, Headbangers' Ball, Yippee Chi O, and White Carnation. The ladies of Chi Omega showed the gentlemen of W&L a good time at Margaritaville, White Trash Trailer Bash, "Let's Get Lucky", Juvenile Delinquents, Italian Wedding, lawn parties and tailgates.

Chi Omega cheered on its members participating in athletics, including field hockey, soccer, swimming, lacrosse, basketball, track, tennis, cross country, riding and cheerleading. The girls excelled in academics as well with members in Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Phi Eta Sigma.

So what do Chi O's do besides have fun?!? The Chi Omegas led the campus in activities such as LIFE, SRC, FOC, SAB, GCF, Peer Counselors, Dorm Counselors, RA's, JubiLee, Kathekon, Contact, and FD Steering Committee. Chi Omega was active in the community as well—selling pompoms to raise money for Live Drive, raffling off parking spaces to support cystic fibrosis research, and helping the fight against cancer in Relay for Life.

With Rush 2001, Chi O sisters welcomed some of the finest freshmen women into our red hot sisterhood. To our senior ladies—best of luck, girls, we'll miss you!

The Zeta Iota Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta had a wonderful 2000-2001 school year. Under the excellent leadership of president Luci Lattimore and our newest president, Alicia Brandt, Theta's excelled in all areas of campus life. Theta's were star athletes on the field hockey, soccer, volleyball, swimming, riding, lacrosse, tennis and water polo teams on campus. We also held many leadership positions in student groups such as the SRC, SJC, FOC, FLC, FD Steering Committee, Dorm Counselors, Nabors Service League, University Faculty Hearing Board, Student Affairs Committee, Voting Regulations Board, Student Faculty Hearing Board, Kathekon, SAM's big sisters, small group leaders, and lots more! The ever studious Thetas also had members initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma and ODK.

The social butterflies that we are, our calendars were packed this year. We partied at Twin Stars Ball, Tacky Prom, Foxfields, Headbangers, PJ Party, Playboy Mansion, Redneck Ball, Pink to Drink, Kite and Key, Beta Theta Toga Party, St. Patty's day Supermixers, Spring Formal, and Pledge Formal. Oh, and don't forget the 2000 Derby Day Champions! With all this socializing, Thetas didn't forget the community. We had a successful 5K Run and Pancake Breakfast for CASA, Halloween Witch Watch and Valentine's Day Rose Sale for the American Heart Association.

Recruitment 2000 was one of the highlights of the year. We snagged 32 of the most fun and awesome girls on campus! They are sure to carry on the fine Theta traditions, picking up where our amazing seniors leave off. We love and will miss our departing seniors, and wish them luck next year in all their endeavors!

We Kappa Deltas could tell you about our philanthropies, such as the Shamrock Project, a 3-on3 basketball tournament benefitting Prevent Child Abuse America, the Richmond Children's Hospital, and Project Horizon. Our girls also helped at the Mayflower Retirement Home, Club 330, nd tutoring at local schools.

Or we KD's could brag about the numerous activities in which we play a part. We had members on he Freshmen Leadership Committee, Dorm Counselor Staff, Kathekon, LIFE, Student Recruitment Comnittee, Contact, Fancy Dress Steering Committee, Freshmen Orientation Committee, GCF, Student Activiies Board, WLUR DJ's, and infinite other organizations.

But we could also tell you about our sporty girls on the lacrosse, basketball, tennis, cross-country, rack, swimming, riding, field hockey, and softball teams. Our girls were so successful at ODAC's that many ompeted on the national level.

Our proudest moments, however, had to be from our endless social calendar. Parties included the uau, Fall Ball, Tacky Prom, Breakfast of Champions, Famous Lovers, Heaven and Hell, Death by Disco, urotrash, Spring Formal, 40's and Floaties, and other wonderful tailgate moments which we will certainly niss.

The amazing Episilon Pledge class made us proud this year taking first and second places in the lip ync. We definitely had the best Rush. The freshmen had a fabulous first year here at KD, thanks in part to he leadership of presidents Catherine Mead and Amanda Kelley.

We'd like to thank Sara, Pattie, Bambi, and Mr. Bitz for making our new house truly feel like home. Ve'll miss all of the wonderful seniors while looking forward to another amazing year of Kappa Delta Pride.

The Zeta Tau Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma had an outstanding 2000-2001 school year under the strong leadership of '00 president Kathleen Moroney and '01 president Carolyn Pressly. Kappas led W&L in academics, athletics and campus involvement. The sorority maintained a remarkable GPA, initiating a number of girls into Phi Beta Kappa, ODK and Phi Eta Sigma. Kappa girls stormed the athletic fields, participating in lacrosse, soccer, tennis, cross-country, basketball, swimming and track. Kappas also held leadership positions in organizations all over the campus including EC, FD Steering Committee, GCF, JubiLee, Kathekon, FOC, LIFE SAB, Arete, Nabors Service League and many more!

Thanks to our amazing Social Chairs, '00 Kristin Carroll and Neely Baker and '01 Katherine Shain and Julia Simmons, Kappa had an incredible social calendar. The weekends were filled with excitement, with events such as Kappa Kountry, Fall Formal, Kite and Key, Kappa Kuisine, Beta Wine and Cheese, Spring Formal, Foxfields, tailgates and many more! Members also enjoyed participating in events around the Lexington community including the annual Pumpkin Carving at Waddell, making valentines at the Mayflower, and raising money for the Rose McGill foundation through Sigma Chi Derby Days.

Rush was a huge success this year, as Kappa initiated 32 incredible new members. Members in all years have been able to create lasting friendships through the establishment of the sorority house, which has given the sorority a home that has strengthened the unity of the chapter.

Kappa wants to thanks everyone that has made this year so incredible! We are sad to see our seniors leave, and wish them best of luck in the years to come.

With an incredible new home, 2000-2001 was another crazy and eventful year for the Virginia Theta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi on the Washington and Lee campus. With girls involved in FOC, SAB, SRC, LIFE, GCF, Fancy Dress, Chamber Singers, University Chorus and Wind Ensemble; athletes participating in Volleyball, Swimming, Track, Tennis, Soccer, Riding, Cheerleading and Softball; and the entire chapter maintaining a high GPA with members initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma and ODK, it's amazing that we still found the time to have as many fun and wild times as we did! Fall began with the many tailgates and on Parent's and Homecoming Weekends we invited families and alumni to come enjoy our gorgeous new house. Together we celebrated our Beaux and Arrows Formal, our Crush Party, and the Spring Semi. January brought us an incredible pledge class of sisters who we got to know better with events like our Big Sis Week trip to the Wintergreen Spa. As busy as all this sounds, we still found time to help out others by reading to children at local elementary schools through the Head Start program, sponsoring our annual Make A Wish Flag Football Tourney, Pi Phi D-hall night, and our Annual Links to Literacy book drive.

2000-2001 also lent itself to some pretty ridiculous moments that we're all sure to remember! Now, led by our new president, Honez, Hooka christened the lions outside of a certain frat house, while our Cabrona underwent a transformation into the wild party girl she's now become. With the help of Otis the Rush Fish (pref night was best,) Julie, I mean my name is Jenny, and our EzMonster yo-fest, rush brought us girls like the talented MB who took a fully clothed slide into a hot tub. Then there were The Party Girls…Poof Nasario… Gumpslut!… hanging out with the band…"Cats" … Krazykek & the Mexican hospital…Flying Snake Legs…Escaping the Inevitable!…Weekends at Nevada – where prostitution is legal! We'll miss our Seniors, they helped make for an insane year, and will miss the pre-parties thrown by our Parkview and Plinko girls, but never fear girls– we have Plinko back!

Like 151 through the shot-glass of life, so go the Days of our Lodge. After our annual reaming at Nationals, we were prepared for another year of complete domination. Following intense negotiations, an owl decided against expanding the Big 5 for us. Undaunted, we made progress in our untiring efforts to climb the social ladder.

As usual, we rushed our asses off, but "Get to Know the Lodge Night" ended up with us getting to know the Ballrus. Margaritaville fared better. The owl showed up, but was promptly met with a barrage of flying coconuts. HeartThrob took a break from feeding his 5 children to be crowned Homecoming King, while the remaining brothers took a sabbatical from rush. That night, our water broke, again, and our buddies from the Georgetown crew team chased the culprit to Red Square. The long awaited Parent's Weekend saw BHM abducted by Brothership and some heartwarming moments. Instant family. . . just add Tully. Santa Claus continued the family tradition at Christmas weekend with 26 confirmed kills and one shot of Sprite to appease the local Mormon contigency. Unfortunately, the Huntress bested Santa with the slaying of D-Lo, Chanukah Harry, and a Thanksgiving Turkey.

The mongoose got hitched over break with both brother and alums embarassing themselves at the reception. Winter term welcomed back the squirrel in heat, but we were all disappointed as he found a mate, succumbing to the SBC invasion and making the Lodge less sketch. Our Ace in the Hole helped us land 10, no 11, no 10, wait 9 new pledges during formal rush. Apparently nobody does it for the story anymore. North/South fell short of the much-anticipated Lodge Brawl 2K 1, with Bobby BlueBalls bringing a gun to the condiment fight. Chi Psychotic rendered Rusti's "No Kappa Anthem" obsolete. One of them even stuck around (even if she is Wente's cousin). After the whistle blew, Johnson & Johnson pledgeship was over before it began. Random Formal was, well. . . random as Slappy was delivered in a Rockbridge County cruiser following a backstabbing visor war. FD, as always, was our favorite party. The morbidly obese puppy got drunk, Duuuuues gave pony rides for $1, and Herbal Rob stopped by to say high. HeartThrob and CueBall kicked it Old Skool, DC style, as Bingo cheered on the debauchery from above. There's a first time for everything. Spring Break saw brothers scattered across the globe, from Cancun to Lake Tahoe to Brazil. Precious Joe didn't come through with the goods. The Lodge held its breath as Ruprect's hand modeling career was jeopardized. Apparently two stitches doesn't equal plastic surgery.

Smokestax dominated the Spring Term social scene as they climbed their way to the top of the WLUR countdown. The sophomores tried to break as many things as they could before they fell victim to the automatic rule. Snails and Slappy were missed as they carried the terribleness to far-off foreign lands, but not before Slappy blew out his 26 birthday candles. The OCD Avenger rode off into the sunset, taking his posse along with him. Bobby LaBarton, the Puerto Rican Teddy Bear, Poop, and Scorsesi—until Senior year.

Finally, we bid farewell to the Ace in the Hole, Chemo, Cue Ball, HeartThrob (our new Alumni Advisor), an engaged McFly, the Magic Muslim, the Sphincter, and G.I. Joe. Chopper sticks around one more term to drop knowledge Twan-style. You know for a business looking for numbers and a high GPA, the Lodge sure felt a lot like a fraternity.

The year 2000-2001 has been thoroughly fratty for the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha. Once again the house enjoyed a successful Rush, capturing 10 of the finest Northern gentlemen that the school has to offer, along with Jeremy Mims and a Texan to boot. House notables were Connor's successful run for the record, Tropical, a very inebriated Christmas Weekend, camping in the mountains, the debacle at Hollins, the intiation of Brother Pecker, the World Series of Poker, some fishy business, Tuck's vanishing act, Welle's lunch in B.V., the desecration of Fielding's bed, and hanging with the "Stein." To the seniors—the frosh will enjoy ruining your house for you, best of luck, and bring us plenty of the good stuff next year.

Phi Gamma Delta

Zeta Deuteron

Established 1868

The Zeta Deuteron chapter of Phi Gamma Delta dominated in 2000-2001. Many Fiji traditions lived on: high academic standards, continuation of leadership in the community, and maintaining a high level of athletic participation. Brothers were Dorm Counselors, RA's, captains of varsity sports, members of Phi Beta Kappa, and winners of the 1999-2000 intramural competition.

With a plethora of great moments, it is hard to choose which to mention, but here are the highlights. Brothers J.C. Meisterstar, The Sexecutioner, and God's Minute mourned the loss of Brother Cheese Danish to a pagan cult in Copenhagen. Brother Guardian Angel found himself occupied at 3 AM by an angelic dominatrix. Brother Ladies Room replied to accusations about his extracurricular activities with, "Get outta here." Brother Tricky Dick considered talking to a girl. The Brothers of Fiji were potty-trained on Brother Phil A. Tio's Stang. Brother The Neck got shot in the rump at close range during Homecoming and then had a dip. Brother Goat had his oil checked on a daily basis. Brother Kinder and Gentler warned people off. Brothers Camel Jockey, Roid Rage, and Rising Sun drank Myoplex and had flex-offs. Brother Art Modell attacked the Neck when Maryland lost. Brother Kappa Kappa Kerkering provided a packed social calendar. The Butt Chin was better for business as his clothing became strictly Brooks brothers- he also moved from his starting position at tight end to backup wide receiver. At Christmas weekend, Brother Titus showed us all what it was like to live in Steve's World, Brother AWOL vanished and ran up an immense debt, so much in fact that The Devil, Camel Jockey, and The Kid couldn't charge Wrestlemania to his cable box. He also wondered where his most recent purchase of silicone went- then he remembered a Kappa Sig groupie. The Moose embarrassed seemingly every brother in the house with his introductions to the tune of Bulls warm-up music and wowed everyone with his charming intellect. Brother Boo Frickin Hoo informed on Brother Sketchball and cried all the way to SPE, informing freshmen along the way. Former starting quarterback Brother Ron Jaworski had a terrific year, but he can't remember it. Brother Code Red enjoyed a leisurely stop at a local Catholic, all-girls middle school while Brother Sideshow Bob picked a fight with the locals. Got Milk? Brothers Flounder and Stay Puft do. Brother The Kid considered taking one final in his career, changed to the New Kid, and reverted to the Old Kid when Pocahontas left town. And finally, Brother Ted Kazcinski performed weekly feats of strength during hall wrestling.

And then there were our seniors, the last breaths of true manhood; if one equates manhood with weekly fratastic feats of drinking, eating cheesy bread, and finding new ways to break the same old stuff. This was not a boring year for the last remnants of the "Old-Guard" Fiji by any stretch of the imagination. The Green Monster continued his mind-altering experiments, flexing his intellect, but never achieving a straightline. The Professor spent his summer in the Beach, and the rest of the year keeping Rainman from attacking A-dog, who expressed his love for fireworks and a random road school girl. Timbo was attacked by forest creatures while driving, continued to dress in ribbed tees, and egged on A, and all the while proving he could still hang out. Chewbacca improved relations with Kappa and the Big 4, and disappeared after taking up a career in carpet-bagging. Brother Krzyzewski . . .oops I mean Williams, was in despair when the Blue Devils won again, but got over it quickly enough to tell everyone how great the Orioles were going to be. JC and the Apostle continued their change, converting more than all the Transformers combined. JC playing his horn and the Apostle following behind. AWOL did what everyone thought he would, and Big Gay Al reminded everyone how super he was.

All in all, it was a great year for the dominance of the Fij. Socially, academically and physically we retained our coveted status as those guys past the post office, and look to break in even more sororities next year, with more dominance, more fijascos and more Kappa-Theta-KD Ubermixers.

Can it be just four years ago you took leave of home? Yet, you helped fill the aching hole with news of your life in constant motion, which we have followed with intense love and admiration. It seems your time at W&L has been rich in thinking and learning and, so characteristic of you, not a minute of it wasted. Now, all too suddenly, you have reached another milestone. Jess, you have enriched our lives tremendously as we have watched the girl we let go grow into a remarkable woman. But, just remember, as you pursue your dreams in the days to come, always look back at the path by which you got to today.

Love, Mom, Dad, Jordan & Sarah

Dear Lauren,

College graduation time is here and it is time for one chapter of your life to close and another phase to begin. Dad and I are so very proud of all your accomplishments and we are filled with happiness for you. You have grown into a wonderful, caring and loving young woman. You have been an excellent role model for your brothers and you have taught Dad and I so much about individual growth and independence in the way that you follow your dreams and life goals. As parents we try to mold and direct your life but somewhere along the line, you took over and became the leader and the teacher of us. We thank you Lauren for being the kind of person who inspires and generates positive energy and happiness in those around you. It is an honor and a great joy to be your parents and we love you very much.

Love,
Mom & Dad

You have taught us that the past is just a prelude,
its time unwound, you have seized the time and place and built your own achievement.
Such a long journey for you - but short for us - from baby steps to a young woman pursuing her dreams.

How proud for us, now, to stand back and marvel,
How rewarding for us to help, but no longer plan
How rewarding for us, now, to follow
but not lead,
How rewarding to know that you are in control of who you are, your life, your dreams, amibition and destiny.

From a parent's eyes, there is no more we could ask of you.
Perhaps for time to follow the bright and shining future which awaits you.

Armed with your achievements, go forth to conquer your own worlds and universes Be unafraid; know you that your family is and always will be there for you.

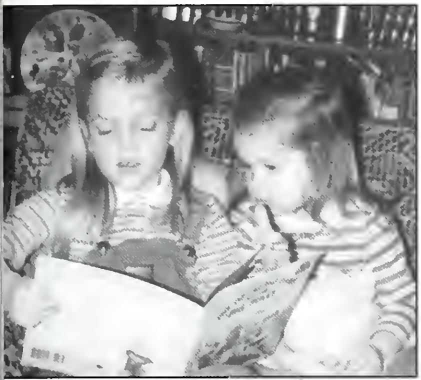
Jocelyn Hendry Bowman

What a joy to watch you grow and mature through the years! How can parents say, "Thank you for all your love, for all your talents, for all your help, and for all you've given to the world?"



Jocelyn is reading to Amanda. Jocelyn cut her own bangs.

The Road Not Taken

By Robert Frost

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And one traveler, long I stood
And looked down as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, one just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that, the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet, knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I -
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

Natalie Le Grand Swope

May you always have a true friend with you when you take that first step...

God bless you and keep you. Thank you for filling our lives with joy and beautiful music.

(And your favorite Ciocia too)

Congratulations, Allison!

You found a home at W & L.
Great friends, inspirational teachers,
and memories to last a lifetime.
Leaving will be bittersweet, but the wider world needs your courage, determination, talents and enthusiasm for living and learning.

You remain an inspiration to all of us.

Love & God Bless,

Adam Thomas Burchett

I am so glad to have known him that I prefer enduring my present grief and sorrow than not to have known him at all... I feel the need to tell you how remarkable in every way I found Adam. I was charmed by him, but my affection was grounded in respect for his intelligence, his seriousness of mind and his directness. I bless God that I had the happiness to know him well.

Professor John M. Evans

Adam embodied the characteristics in a man that each of us should strive to obtain. He was a true friend to all those he met. He took pride in himself and the goals he achieved. Adam was a true gentleman and a hero to us all.

The Brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Maybe all I should have said is how much Adam means to me, how much I love him, and how much I miss him

"Stories!" "Secrets!"
"I love you guys!"

"I am a fragment of a mirror whose whole design I do not know. Nevertheless, with what I have I can relfect light into the dark places of this world - into the black hearts of men - and change some things in some people. Perhaps others may see and do likewise.
This is what I am about.
This is the meaning of life."

Colophon

The 2001 Calyx was produced by Jostens Publishing at their Winston-Salem, North Carolina plant. The book is 300 pages, including 39 pages of full color and 24 pages of spot color. The theme was developed by the editor in the Spring of 2000 and further continued by the wonderful, talented and [illegible]. The cover is designed by Scott [illegible] for his artwork to [illegible] be used. The staff would like to thank our Josten's representative, Jay Hollis. Our deepest appreciation goes to Carol Calkins for her understanding, patience and kindness with us during the year. Also, thanks to the business office, the Executive Committee, the Treasurer's Office, the Ring-tum Phi, the Publications Office, Dean Howison, and the faculty, staff and student body of W&L for their support in producing this annual. Also, Mr. Brian Laubscher and the Sports Information Desk and Website have been an invaluable tool i the production of this annual. The Editor als wishes to take this opportunity to wish the staff' only graduating senior, Blair Priest, good luck an bonne chance in the future! Blair, it was a blas having you on staff, we know you'll go far i whatever you do! The Calyx is made available t all students for free in the fall of the following yea and is available to alumni, faculty, staff and th administration for a fee of $50
